Musical team building with a groove

Since ancient times, drumming has been one of the most effective and inclusive team building activities there is. So let's get back to our roots and try something new.

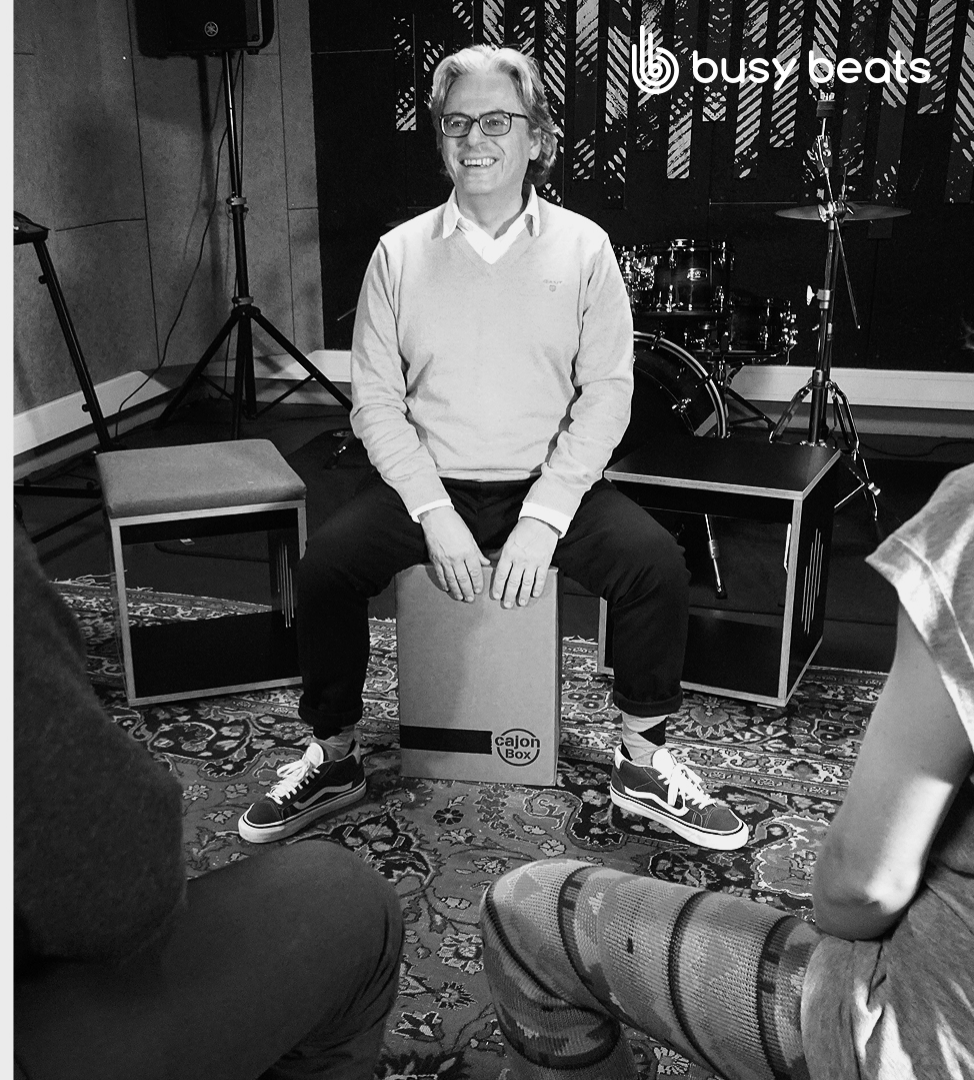

With professional guidance the participants design and construct their own cajons (drums). After a short break, the drum coach leads the team into the magical world of rhythms and sounds. The unexpected happens: after only a few minutes the team members find their own (very specific) groove. They realize they are a harmonious and powerful unit.

Benefits: Fosters communication and cooperation All participants are involved, irrespective of age, gender, origin, musical ability After the event participants can take their cajons (drums) home with them, so they'll have lasting happy memories of the team building event.

Number of participants: 10-100

Duration: approx. 30-45 min.
